

Listen Closer...

You can hear the soft crash and hiss of waves, the cry of seagulls, and the summer breeze whistling through palm leaves.

"Would you like another drink?"

"Yes please," you answer.

Your waitress slides a frost-caked bottle of Corona from a bucket of ice, cracks it open, and sets it on your table with a fresh slice of lime.

Isn't it time to escape the ring tones, text chimes, email alerts, and office chatter to fall in love with the sounds of the ocean again?
