

JUST PICTURE THIS...

You step out of bed and walk just ten steps onto your pine-wood balcony to gaze at endless miles of mist-wrapped, blue mountains.

You'll cook breakfast over a wood-fire stove, and sip coffee on your back porch where bald eagles and red-shouldered hawks soar.

In the afternoon, you'll tour the winding wooded nature path where beams of golden sunlight shine through crisp maple leaves.

At sunset, you'll relax on your wrap-around porch with a warm cup of tea and watch the star-studded vertical horizon of the milky way fade into view.
